JOHNSON BREAKS LONG SILENCE

According to his story. He denied that he had ever confessed, saying instead that he had asked why he was kept in jail when the Chinaman was released.

Johnson spoke very rapidly. He used numerous gestures and at times stamped his feet to emphasize his utterances. At times he also hastened across the courtroom floor, to illustrate what he claimed to have seen the Chinaman do. He declared that the latter had many times attacked the children, and that he, Johnson, had protected them. In revenge, the Chinese schemed to fasten the murder on him. Johnson told about the wine allowance, as testified to, gave his explanation of the quarrel over it, mentioned his working with the Kentwells and Holts and called his attorney, Harrison, by name. It was perfectly clear that he had understood a great deal, during the weeks while he sat silently by his counsel and heard testimony about himself, such as that he could not pronounce the name "Kentwell."

"Have you anything to say for your client?" Judge Robinson asked Harrison, when Johnson had got through. Harrison replied that he had nothing to say.

Deputy Attorney General Prosser also had no remarks to make. After some remarks about capital punishment, published elsewhere in The Star Judge Robinson sentenced Johnson to

THE RELIEF COMMITTEES MET THIS MORNING

J. F. MORGAN WAS APPOINTED AS THE DULY AUTHORIZED AGENT OF THE RELIEF COMMITTEE IN SAN FRANCISCO, WHERE HE WILL RELIEVE MR. FRASER—WALTER DOYLE WILL BE HIS ASSISTANT—WORK PROGRESSING RAPIDLY.

A joint session of the executive and soliciting committees was held at nine o'clock this morning in the office of C. M. Cooke.

The soliciting committee made a report through their chairman, J. A. McCandless. He told of the plans of the soliciting committee and how the work would be carried on. The city is to be divided into sections and the work commenced at once.

As soon as the report of Mr. McCandless was heard the soliciting committee left in order to take up the work of the executive committee then began canvassing at once.

Its regular session. J. F. Morgan was sent for and was duly authorized as the representative of the committee in San Francisco. Discussion as regards the carrying on of the work in San Francisco was then carried on for some time so that Mr. Morgan might thoroughly understand what would be expected of him after he reached the stricken city.

The secretary was instructed to prepare a formal letter notifying J. F. Morgan of his appointment as agent of the relief committee. A letter was also sent to Mr. Fraser telling of the appreciation the people of Hawaii felt for his work in the relief matter in San Francisco and telling him that Mr. Morgan would relieve him, although they would be glad to have Mr. Fraser assist Mr. Morgan.

It was resolved that an action of the funds be used to relieve the sufferings of any Chinese or Japanese in San Francisco. Mr. Morgan will be notified as to the amount by the Ventura.

Walter Doyle was appointed Mr. Morgan's assistant.

The committee then adjourned.

DEATH THIS MORNING OF A. T. ATKINSON

sure of public opinion for annexation to the United States.

On the organization of the Territory he was appointed Superintendent of Public Instruction by Governor Dole June 14, 1900. He was continued in that position by Governor Carter until April 1905.

Mrs. Atkinson survives her husband as do their seven children, three sons and four daughters. These are, the Acting Governor of the Territory, A. L. C. Atkinson; Robert W. Atkinson, with the B. F. Dillingham Company; Kenneth Atkinson, engaged in railroading in Northern Michigan; Mrs. Gibbons, wife of Captain Gibbons, of H. B. M. Navy, now at Portsmouth, England; Mrs. A. M. Brown, who sailed on the China for a visit in California; Mrs. S. G. Wilder, now en route to England to visit Mrs. Gibbons, and Mrs. R. C. L. Perkins. Mrs. Perkins is the only daughter just now in Honolulu. There are a number of grandchildren.

Mr. Atkinson was the Superintendent of the Census for Hawaii on at least two occasions. One was in 1896 under the Republic of Hawaii. The other was the first census taken after annexation, in 1900. For the purpose of this latter he was called to Washington to consult with the Director of the Census, Senator Merriam.

Mr. Atkinson had a pleasing facility in versification, as many dainty and graceful compositions of this sort, published in The Star and otherwise abundantly show. He was master of a vigorous prose style, and in some of his reports as Superintendent of Public Instruction, and in other official positions there is displayed an eloquence not often found in such documents.

All of the schools of the city and the office of the Board of Education closed at noon today out of respect to the memory of the late Alatau T. Atkinson.

Acting Governor Atkinson was at the steamer Nippon Maru when the death of his father took place. He was busy with the final arrangements for the departure of J. F. Morgan, representative of the San Francisco relief fund. Before going home, the Acting Governor went to the executive chambers and finished mails which it was necessary to get off in the noon inter-island mail.

MAGNIFICENT BUILDING LOST

MERCHANTS EXCHANGE STRUCTURE UNDOUBTEDLY DESTROYED IN THE CONFLAGRATION.

A cablegram from Fraser to H. Hackfeld and Company this morning stated that the main office of the Pacific Mail Company in San Francisco had been burned but the wharf was undamaged.

This news means that the magnificent Merchants' Exchange structure on California and Montgomery streets was destroyed. The Pacific Mail offices were located on the seventh floor of this building. The Southern Pacific quarters were also located in this building. The building stood about 11 stories in height and was the latest and one of the most pretentious office structures in the city.

SALVATION ARMY TO ASSIST IN RELIEF

THE LOCAL BRANCH OF THE ARMY HAVE ALREADY RAISED OVER ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS.

Adjutant Bamberg of the Salvation Army cabled yesterday to the Oakland branch of the Army to learn as to the safety of the Salvation Army workers in San Francisco. He had received no word at a late hour this morning.

The adjutant says that all of the property in San Francisco must have burned with the exception of one rented hall which was some distance from the burned district. The large building owned by the army at the corner of Mission and Ninth streets and used as headquarters is sure to have been burned as were the other down town halls. There was also a large hall on Natoma street.

The Salvation Army here has started a relief work and already have over $100 collected. They have about ten workers that they can put in the field canvassing and the work of collecting will be carried forward rapidly.

The money collected will be forwarded at once to Col. French in charge of the Salvation Army work in San Francisco and it will either be used there for the wants of the people dependent upon the army or will be turned over to the general relief fund.

RIGHTS BOUGHT BACK

The objections to sea travel are mainly on the score of the illness, temporary, of course, which appears directly the prow of the vessel passes through the third "roller." Physicians have devised a hundred remedies for the discomfort and a few preventatives but their efficiency is questionable. Nature has done much toward alleviating the sufferings which immediately follow the attack and man has lent a hand in putting the "first aid to the injured" in the grip of every traveler. Some years ago, twenty, perhaps, a resident of Hawaii conceived a plan for making a flour from the root of the taro and its first use was for invalids who found a difficulty in retaining food upon their stomachs. The local demand was greater than the supply and the nerve-quieting qualities of the flour soon became known on the mainland and the demand for it increased so rapidly that a specially built equipment for its manufacture was installed and the right to manufacture was transferred to Dr. Wiley of the mainland. The Hobron Drug Co. has recently purchased from Dr. Wiley all his right, title and interest in the name and will in future make Taroena under the personal supervision of a skillful specialist.
